The Campus The People

Brian St. John

Troy State College — established as Troy State Normal School by the Alabama General Assembly in 1887. The Alabama Legislature has approved the following changes in the name: Troy State Normal College 1893, Troy State Teachers College 1927, Troy State College 1957, and Troy State University 1967.

Land and the first building for the original downtown campus and the land for the present site were provided by the city of Troy. The college was moved to the present campus in 1930.

The State Board of Education authorized the College to grant the Bachelors Degree in 1929 and the Master's Degree in 1956. Presently there are six schools which consist of Business and Commerce, Education, Nursing, Arts and Science, Journalism and Fine Arts.

Donation Provides Troy State With Chapel, Four Academic Chairs

Troy — A gift of approximately $4.4 million from the estate of Brundidge native Anise Johnson Sorrell is providing Troy State University with a chapel and four academic chairs.

The chapel, to cost approximately $250,000, will be "a haven for people of all faiths on campus," TSU President Dr. Ralph W. Adams said.

The non-denominational facility will occupy about 2,800 square feet on a lot adjacent to Wallace Hall and will be used by students, faculty, staff and campus organizations.

Preliminary plans are being coordinated by the Dothan architectural firm of Spann, Hall and Ritchie. Bids for the construction work will be let this winter.

The chapel will be named in honor of Mrs. Sorrell's late husband Jeff, a native of Saco, who accumulated his wealth through land and timber. At one time, Sorrell owned 12,000 head of cattle and 35,000 acres of land.

In addition to the chapel, TSU's Board of Trustees has agreed to name a building on campus in Sorrell's honor. The McCall Hall annex, connected to the original portion of TSU's science and history building, will be named Sorrell Hall.

In Mrs. Sorrell's will, it was suggested a portion of the TSU donation be used for a chapel and to name a building after Sorrell, Adams said.

The Troy State Board of Trustees has obligated $3 million of the TSU donation to endow academic chairs to be filled by professionals of national or international repute. Each chair has been endowed with $750,000 and a goal of $1 million has been set for each fund. Professionals will be hired on a quarterly or yearly basis.

A chair in journalism has already been filled for fall quarter by Washington, D.C. columnist and commentator M. Stanton Evans. Evans is teaching, lecturing and planning guidelines for the chair, and will help select a name for the chair.

The university has established the first chair in nursing in Alabama. The chair, one of 10 chairs in nursing in the nation, is named for Mrs. Sorrell and will be filled by January 1981.

The Adams-Bibby Chair of Free Enterprise has been established in TSU's School of Business. The chair is named for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berry Bibby of Dallas, former Birmingham residents, and Mrs. Bibby's father, Eason Young Adams. The Bibbys contributed $100,100 to the chair, bringing the total of the fund to $850,100.

The business chair was the first one established at the university. Officials anticipate the chair will be filled by the first of next year.

Another chair will be established later in either the School of Education or the College of Arts and Sciences.

The remaining $1 million of the donation will be placed in an endowment fund, Adams said. "To be flexible, we didn't want to use all of the money at once."

The Sorrell donation places Troy State ahead of most universities in the establishment of chairs, he noted.

"Of the some 3,000 colleges and universities in the country, only about 100 have chairs. And while most schools spend years trying to raise money for chairs, we have a good start in beginning our own," Adams said.

He noted that Harvard University has the largest endowment fund — about $100 Million — in the nation. "The Sorrell donation should grow from nearly $4.5 million to $10 million or $15 million by the time I leave Troy State," Adams added.

About $5 million has been deposited in TSU's endowment fund since Adams became president in 1964.

America's Jr. Miss 1979

Jr. Miss — so much more than a pageant — it is, in essence, a feeling, a way of life, a program dedicated to recognition of the achievements and ambitions of America's youth. With the acceptance of her title, a Jr. Miss assumes the responsibility of representing the finest of her generation. Superlative is by no means her description. She is a representative, and as such displays her talents, values, and attitudes in a way most beneficial to her generation, society, and self. However, the personal growth and human interaction, primary goals of the Jr. Miss program, would be nonexistent if not for the support and encouragement of the people who believe in us, people who recognize tomorrow's leaders in today's youth. Troy State University is such an entity. For the support, mental enrichment, and emotional development, this institution has given us, Troy State, we offer our futures. A bright and beautiful pledge to be all that Jr. Miss stands for — representatives of the best.

SGA President Takes Job With Governor, Vice-President Assumes Duties

Alot of excitement and sadness were main events in the SGA this year. Lamar Higgins, Troy State's first black SGA president resigned his post and took a job with the the governor's office in Montgomery.

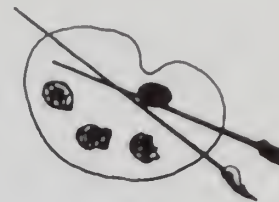

Lamar, a political science major, did his internship last Spring at the governor's office where he served as a liasion between James' executive branch and the state Legislature.

In 1978, Higgins ran the TSU campaign for gubernatorial candidate, Fob James.

As of January 13, 1981, Vice-President Richard Dean, a computer science/math major from Montgomery, Alabama will assume his duties.

To Lamar, Congratulations and good luck; to Richard, our total support is behind you. We are proud to boast of the accomplishments of both.

THE ARTS:

Throughout the ages man has sought all sorts of means for expressing himself. Today, sociologists say that despite the fact that we are so highly technically advanced and enjoy privileges never imagined by any previous society, we are suffering from an inward decline perhaps as dangerous as any natural earthquake or financial depression, and possibly just as capable of destroying us.

As man seeks ways to fill the void, he often finds, strangely enough, that the more he gives of himself, the smaller the vacuum becomes. Ironically, as mankind finds new ways to express himself individually, the quest for self-fulfillment is attained.

So it is with art. The artist has the advantage of being able to express himself in his work. At this university, Kilby Hall has long been the setting for many inspirational works of art. There is something about the tired, old structure that is reminiscent of past achievements. The crumbling stucco walls seem to beg the best of those of us who are seeking to give, to receive.

Sound of the South . . . Past and Present.

This year's homecoming activities included the first annual "Alumni Band" which was sponsored by Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi. The band was made up of past members of the Sound of the South. Jim Rolling, the original announcer for TSU bands, returned to announce the half-time show and Bruce Smiley served as Drum Major. Nearly 100 Alumni participated in the return of the "Sound". While performing, students in the stands could be heard saying "When Dr. Long teaches, you don't forget!", and the alumni band members confirmed that fact through their outstanding performance! To the Sound, we anxiously await your next performance.

Displays convey the true message

Homecoming always gives dorms and fraternities their chance to convey their message to the opponent that year. Below is a sample of those messages. Theta Chi clearly wants to ring Tennessee Tech's neck while Hamil Hall calls on Kermit to mop them up and Tau Kappa Epsilon has the Eagles for a Saturday evening roast. Hamil Hall was awarded first place for Best On-Campus Display while Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity was awarded Best Off-Campus Display and IFC and Alumni Yard Display. Congratulations to both groups and to the students who worked long hard hours on them.

Standard Chemical Company, Franklin's Destroyed by Fire

No more daytime meals or nighttime dances will be made by the faithful customers of Franklin's and Standard. A 2-hour fire on May 5, proved to be the end of both these businesses. Smoke was spotted coming from between Franklin's and Standard at about 8:45 p.m., half an hour after the delicatessen had closed and before the Standard was open. Seven fire trucks answered the call, but both businesses suffered total loss.

All across campus the next day students could be heard reminiscing the great sandwiches Franklin's served and the good times they had dancing at Standard. Standard and Franklin's are gone, but the memories and experiences which people shared will live on forever.

Atlanta Killings Produce A Response From Concerned TSU Students

The SGA sponsored an "Atlanta Children's Day" April 21, 1981. All students were encouraged to wear green ribbons to remember the victims.

A program was held in the Adams Center Ballroom with President Ralph Adams giving his comments and Rev. Samuel Walker as guest speaker. The TSU Gospel Choir sang and Carolin Crawford read scripture.

A ceremony was held in Bibb Braves Quad, as pictured, where concerned students tied green ribbons around a tree in hopes that the killer would soon be caught and all other children would be safe.

Students and instructors alike could be seen all over campus during this time wearing green ribbons showing their concern for the Atlanta victims.

Just A Closer Look

Wes Llewellyn

Troy State University is a campus of many scenes which are looked upon but never actually seen. Perhaps each individual should stop and take 'Just A Close Look' at our buildings, trees, and automobiles, but most important, at the students who make Troy State ALABAMA'S MOST EXCITING CAMPUS!!!

WHO'S WHO

American Colleges

And

Universities

Since 1934, WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES has furthered the aim of higher education by rewarding and recognizing individual academic excellence on a national level.

As is the procedure at most colleges and universities, Troy State's WHO'S WHO recipients are selected for nomination by their faculty members. The nominees are then selected by a committee from the administration, and faculty members from all departments and schools on the Troy State campus. In making the selections, the committee considers those upperclassmen and graduate students whose academic standing, participation in extra-curricular activities, community services, and potential for future achievement are above average.

By participating in this program, T.S.U. joined over 1,300 institutions of higher learning across the country who nominate each year for WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES.

T.S.U.'s quota for the 1980-81 academic year was 48 students.

Tom Ensey
Sports Information Director

This is Tom Ensey's second year as TSU's Sports Information Director. His list of responsibilities is endless but it's obvious he enjoys his work. A graduate of the University of Alabama with a BA in English, Tom Ensey compiles, edits, and distributes all sports related publications. He also is in charge of running the press box and press row, compiling stats, and sending out press releases. For Ensey public relations is the name of the game.

An Active member of the University and local community, Robert Stewart was named TSU's athletic director in August, 1974. Upon taking command of the program, he set forth to make it competitive on every level. Stewart takes an active role in the Gulf South Conference and NAIA District 27. He is a member of NAIA District 27 Executive Committee and is currently chairman of the GSC's Athletic Director's Committee.

CHARLIE BRADSHAW

Head Coach Gives Team that Special Quality

Entering his fifth year at Troy State and his 27th in the coaching profession is Charlie Bradshaw, one of the most respected men in the collegiate coaching ranks. Under his direction the Trojans have averaged over seven wins per season, six of them against Gulf South Conference opponents. Bradshaw's winning percentage at the TSU helm is an impressive .705.

Born in Clio, Bradshaw grew up in Montgomery and attended Lanier High School. In 1942, he entered the University of Kentucky where he played offensive line under Wildcat football coach Paul "Bear" Bryant.

Bradshaw's four-year college career was interrupted for 35 months by World War II. After receiving his discharge from the Marines in 1945, he returned to UK.

In 1949 he received his bachelor's degree from Kentucky. The next year, he completed requirements for a master's degree. At that time, he launched his coaching career at Lanier High.

Bradshaw spent four years at Lanier before returning to Kentucky as an assistant to Bryant in 1954. Four years later, he followed Bryant to the University of Alabama.

Bradshaw remained at Alabama until 1963, when he was called back to Kentucky as head coach. Bradshaw served as Kentucky's head man from 1963 to 1969.

He resigned his position at Kentucky in 1969 and during the following four years, he served on the coaching staffs at Texas A&M and Vanderbilt. In 1973, he stepped out of the coaching ranks and entered private business.

Bradshaw and his family came to Troy in 1975. We here at Troy State are proud to have such a distinguished individual in our athletic program.

"We're optimistic yet realistic about the season," said Bradshaw.

Trainers and managers provide skilled assistance

The TSU Athletic Training Staff is responsible for the care and prevention of injuries sustained by athletes at Troy State University. These responsibilities include everything from setting up diets, administering physical therapy and rehabilitation exercises, taping, as well as conditioning programs to help prevent injuries.

The staff works throughout the school year traveling and administering help to all of our athletic teams. Our staff also assists Charles Henderson highschool during the fall. With the help of local team doctors, Dr. Jerri Beck and Dr. Merrill Barron, the entire health center staff of nurses and Dr. Jim Audreus of the Hughston Orthopedic Clinic, we feel the TSU athletes get as excellent medical aid.

Hey, What Can We Say . . .

TEXAS A&I

The season's opener was a hot one. The glaring sun of the Texas prairie exhausted both teams in a hurry, but Troy State pulled out a 14-6 win over the Javelinas of Texas A&I to avenge last year's 7-6 opening home loss to the Kingsville team.

Defensively, the Trojans weakened at times, but broke only once as the Javelinas drove deep into TSU territory on three occasions. They were stopped short of the goal line each time. Sherman Wilkinson disappointed the Javs by blocking a 36 yard field goal attempt, thus ending another scoring threat.

Troy's offense sagged in the first half as pass protection failed repeatedly making the situation even more difficult for Quarterback Willie Tullis, but some big plays were still made. One such play was a picture-perfect pass from Tullis to Kevin Murdock that resulted in a 45 yard gain and a touch down.

The Trojans only gained 75 yards passing, out of 11 attempts, 4 were completed with 1 interception. 172 yards were gained on the ground with tailback Anthony Fowlkes heading up the ground attack.

With this victory, the Trojans headed back home to prepare for the next week's game with the University of Tennessee-Martin.

A Family Affair

TENNESSEE-MARTIN

In the first home game of the season, Troy State rolled over Tenn.-Martin with a score of 38-0, gaining their second win of the year and the first Gulf South Conference contest.

The TSU offense gained an exceptional 425 yards, while the defense held Tennessee-Martin to 101 yards rushing and 57 yards passing.

Quarterback Willie Tullis completed 10 of 13 passes for 235 yards and three touchdowns. Freshman Troy Brown led the rushers with six carries and a yardage gain of 55 yards. Kevin Murdock, a junior split end, had another good game, taking in a 73 yard play on the first snap of the second half. Murdock led receivers with three passes and 114 yards.

The Trojans were terrific defensively, intercepting four passes from three different quarterbacks. Junior linebacker Steve Stringfellow picked off two passes, had three tackles and one assist. Sherman Wilkinson intercepted his second pass of the season and ran it back 47 yards to set up another TSU touchdown. The fourth interception was made by Emmett Bright. The "Family", the name taken on by the Trojan defense this year, has certainly proved to be the correct identification for these super guys. Having had a rather impressive win at home the troop began to look ahead to their match up with Nicholls State with confidence of a winning season.

"I hope we can sell our kids on the Challenge that Nicholls State presents," — Bradshaw.

NICHOLLS STATE

Even though Troy had traditionally had trouble on the Colonels' home field, the Trojans entered game #3 remembering that a Charlie Bradshaw TSU team had never lost to Nicholls State. In Thibodaux, Louisiana, Cajun Country, two teams battled it out. One with a 2-0 record and the other with a 1-2.

Left: John Anthony forces his way through a "mean as J.R." Texas mob. Opposite page: The Texas Javs were able to jab our offense forcing us to run.

Careful to stress Nicholls' famed passing game Coach Bradshaw had warned that they would throw fifty percent of the time. There defense was a shifty five man set up similar to that of Texas A&I. Despite several injuries the trojans were acquiring by now, they pulled out a win of 25-15. The Trojans were now averaging 378.0 yards per game.

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE

At this point in the season, Troy State is ranked third in the NCAA national small college poll and striving for number one with a 30-0 win over Mississippi College.

The defense had a terrific game and gained their second shutout of the season. Coach Bradshaw praised Kenny Craik, Alan Biddle, Steve Stringfellow, and Sherman Wilkinson who picked off two errant Choctaw passes returning them for 39 yards.

Troy fullbacks, Tank Summers and John Anthony, both had 64 yards on 11 carries but Summers was in the game at key moments tying a TSU and Gulf South Conference record in scoring making 4 touchdowns.

No serious injuries accrued during the game and except for Marion Brown and Paul Morrison who are suffering from knee injuries from the Nicholls State game the Trojans are at full strength and improving all the time.

"... one of the most satisfying wins I've ever had," — Bradshaw.

SOUTHEASTERN LOUISIANA

Troy never trailed the entire contest opening the score with a 30-yard touchdown romp by Tank Summers at the 8:41 mark of the first quarter. Andy Lackey missed his first extra point try of the season. The Trojans scored on their next possession and Tullis completed a two point conversion to John Anthony.

The Lions struggled forward for awhile but it was obvious that they were fighting a losing battle as Tullis ended the scoring with a one-yard sweep around right end with 1:01 left in the game.

Tim Bryan, Troy's center, received the Gulf South Conference offensive player of the week award, the first offensive lineman to do so. It was over-all what a true sports enthusiast would call a "good game"; the coach was satisfied and the team was fast proving itself.

DELTA STATE

GSC opponent Delta State never had a chance. The Trojans knocked the Statesmen out early, scoring on their first two possessions of the game and finally winding up with a win 35-7.

The score became 21-0 early in the second quarter, as Troy drove 42 yards in four plays, most of which was gained on a 34 Tank Summers run.

Only seconds remained in the second quarter as Bobby Fuller stole a Statesmen pass and ran it back to TSU's 35. A face-mask penalty put the ball on the 50 for Troy, and a few plays later with no time showing on the clock, Tullis hit Summers for a 39 yard TD to make the halftime score 28-0.

On their first possession of the second half, the Trojans gained another seven driving 74 yards for the TD.

Delta State put an end to Troy's long string of shutouts on the home field in the latter fourth quarter, but the Trojans came out victorious.

Troy's proverbial bubble burst with game number seven as the Trojans fell from the ranks of the undefeated. The problem was that TSU's defense just couldn't hold up against the Lions.

"We went up there and met a team that wanted to win more than we did," — Bradshaw.

"They were better prepared, and out executed us. We just made too many mistakes to win," said Bradshaw. Despite the fact that Troy never seemed to be able to establish a running game, late in the game the Trojans still had a chance to win. With a little over four minutes left in the game, TSU got a Lion fumble on their own 33 yard line. The Trojans advanced the ball to the 43, but four incomplete passes turned the ball over. Tullis and Anthony were the offensive names to mention and Steve Stringfellow with 19 tackles was Bradshaw's defensive choice for words of praise.

TENNESSEE TECH

Troy State bounced back from its only loss of the season with an awe-inspiring 52-3 pummeling of Tenn. Tech, a 1-AA Ohio Valley foe. It was Troy's homecoming.

Tech took the ball on their first possession and marched deep into TSU territory, setting up a 36 yard field goal that gave the Golden Eagles 11 consecutive field goals this season, a new NCAA I-AA record. But that was all the offense the Tennesseans could muster as Troy struck back on a 70 yard march that was capped by Summers' run.

Troy led 7-3 at the end of the first period. But the Trojans exploded for 24 points in the second quarter and held a commanding 31-3 lead at intermission. Troy scored on four consecutive possessions during a period spanning the first to the third quarter.

The Trojans held the Golden Eagles to only 106 yards passing. They had been averaging almost 190 yards per game. Tennessee Tech only managed 178 yards total offense all day long, and after the first quarter field goal never made a serious offensive threat.

The coach passed out laurels to wide receivers Kelvin Murdock and Breck Upshaw, running backs John Anthony, Tank Summers, Anthony Fowlkes and Robert Pennington, Freshman tailback Fred Mixon, and kicker Yong Ho Gilroy, who was seven-for-seven on extra points and kicked his first field goal of the season. Troy faced its last two games of the season with a 7-1-0 record.

Homecoming by Far the Most Colorful Game

LIVINGSTON

The big victory margin of Troy 37, Livingston 20, in no way reflected how close the game actually was. The tigers were the first opposing team all season to outgain the Trojans in yardage.

Troy took an early 7-0 lead, marching 42 yards in 10 plays after freshman, Donnie Arnold returned the opening kick-off 58 yards to give TSU good field position. It looked for a moment that Troy might make it a runaway when early in the second period, the Trojans mounted a 72 yard, 10 play drive that ended with full-back John Anthony carrying in from the one.

But Livingston cut the margin to 14-7 on the ensuing possession, blazing from their 36 for their first score of the night. Then it was Troy's turn again as they scored with less than a half-minute remaining in the half.

Coming back for the second half, the first scoring with a pass and consequently giving the Tiger crowd hope for an upset; the score 20-13, Livingstons still, trailing.

Troy once again took hold scoring first a 27 yard Yong Ho Gilroy field goal and then a fumble on the Tiger 6 resulted in a Troy score making it 30-14. Troy scored once more with no time left on the clock when safety Harris Spencer picked off a tiger pass and raced 27 yards to end the game.

When the dust had cleared Troy had advanced it's record to 8-1 on the season and 4-1 in the Gulf South Conference.

JACKSONVILLE STATE

Why? There is no easy answer. Why does a team of superb athletes with high hopes of making the NCAA Division II playoffs have to sit back and watch it all fade away?

The game at Jax State was a defensive battle on a rain-soaked, slippery field. Troy quarterback Willie Tullis passed for 329 yards completing 19 of 34 passes, but was held to minus eight yards rushing. The Gamecocks defense held the Trojans to only 42 yards rushing all night. Troy's only touchdown of the night came on a second quarter, 72 yard strike from Tullis to junior Kelvin Murdock. Murdock finished the night with seven receptions for 172 yards.

The score was tied 6-6 at the half. TSU received two points for an intentional Jax State safety. Jax State scored once more then with just 15 seconds left on the clock Tullis cranked one deep to Murdock at the JSU 13. Murdock and a Jax State defensive back both had possession, but as they were falling the Jax State man won the wrestling match for the ball and Troy's hopes for a miracle ended.

Basketball Team Breaks Even

Wes Bizilia is in his eighth year at Troy State, his 22nd in the coaching profession. He came to Troy in 1973 after a successful career as an assistant coach, freshman coach and recruiter for Auburn University.

He came to Troy in 1973. In 1974 he was voted Gulf South Conference "Coach of the Year" when his young Trojan squad finished with an 18-8 record and third in the league, tying North Alabama for the league championship. Bizilia played guard at Livingston University from 1955-59. In 1959 he earned his degree from Livingston and launched his coaching career at Fairhope High School. From Fairhope he moved to McGill Institute, where he remained for three years. In 1966, he went to Auburn as a graduate assistant. Later he returned to Mobile to become head coach at the University Military School. Then he rejoined the Auburn staff in 1969 as assistant coach and recruiter where he remained until 1973. Bizilia finished the 1980-81 season at TSU with a 13-13 record.

"We feel that we have a demanding schedule this season, but competitive." — Head Coach Brizilia.

Assistant Coach David Felix, along with Coach Brizilia, cheer on the Trojans.

Basketball

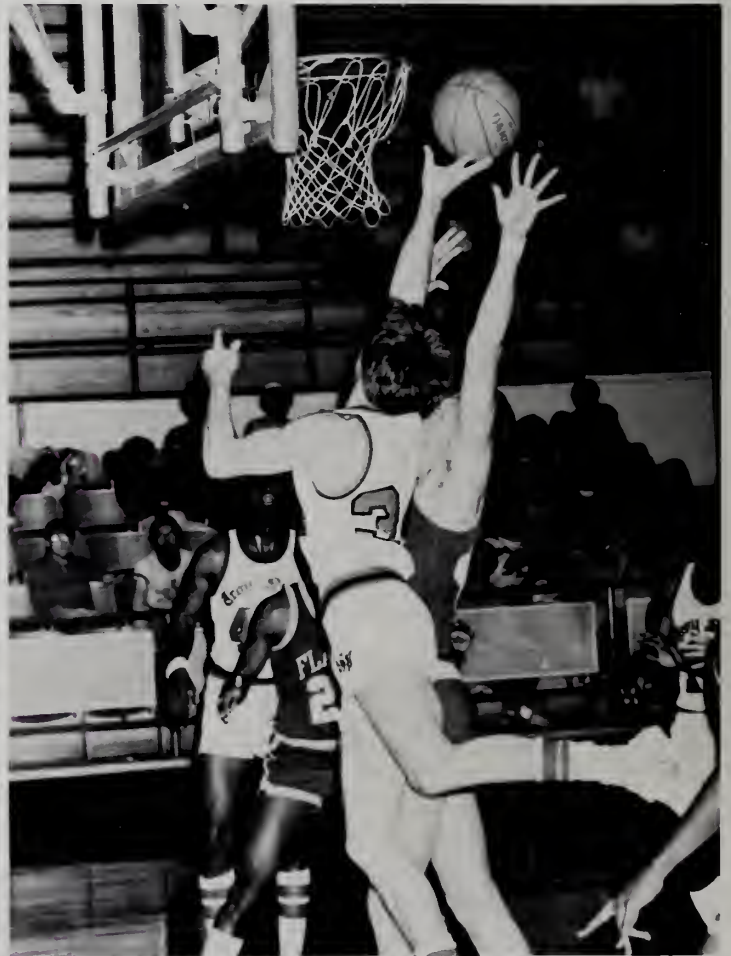

Men's Basketball Breaks Even

For the first eight games it was back and forth with Troy winning every other game. As the season progressed TSU seemed to have the bad luck of having the clock run out on them. Such close games as 65-67 Tennessee-Martin, 43-45 Mississippi College, 54-56 Mississippi College, and 58-61 Livingston verify this. In the end Troy had won 13 of their 26 games — just breaking even.

Former track star comes back to lead

Entering his first season as cross-country coach is Rick Stetson, who took over the reins of the track and cross-country program last year when 13-year veteran coach John Anderson vacated the position. In his first assignment as a head coach, he directed the Trojan track team to a Gulf South conference Championship, the school's first in four years.

Stetson was a member and captain of Troy State's first conference champion cross-country team in 1971. He still runs daily workouts and is competitive in his age group throughout the southern United States.

This was the second year for the Trojan Trackettes. Being a Trackette means being dedicated to the TSU track team. Rush is held during Winter quarter but things really get cranked up in the Spring. One of the highlights of this year was the Gulf South Conference meet which several girls attended. Specifically, what the Trackettes do is officiate. No experience is required because what is important is enthusiasm!

Being a Trackette is rewarding because of the people you meet and the things you learn but most of all it is just plain fun.

Born in Columbus, Ga. in 1925, Chase Riddle began his successful athletic career at Jordan High School, where he played football and basketball. At age 17, he signed a professional baseball contract with the Boston Red Sox organization.

In, 1943, he entered the U.S. Navy and served in the Pacific, assigned to landing craft duty during World War II. Upon his discharge from the Navy in 1946, he resumed his baseball career and entered Troy State University. He played football and basketball at TSU during fall and winter quarters and reported to baseball camp during the spring and summer. He earned all-American honors as a football player during his career at Troy.

In 1951, he graduated from Troy State and began coaching at Troy High School — now Charles Henderson High — where he remained for three years.

In 1955, he signed with the St. Louis Cardinal organization as a player-manager. During that time he played on and managed teams in Dothan, Albany, Ga., Billings, Mont., Winnipeg, Canada, Winston-Salem, N.C., Lancaster, Pa., and Portsmouth, Va.

In 1963, he became the Cardinal's scouting supervisor for the Southeastern U.S. and Caribbean area.

He joined the TSU staff in July, 1978.

Griffin — Success at Early Age

A 1970 graduate of TSU, Mike Griffin had long enjoyed success in golf as a player and a coach. He was a four-year letterman at Troy State and the school's number one player three of those years.

From 1970 until turning professional in 1972, Griffin won more than 30 major amateur titles while teaching at South Montgomery County Academy.

He joined the TSU staff in late 1973, after playing pro golf, to enjoy more success than probably any coach in the nation at such an early age. Before his 30th birthday, Griffin had coached 15 all-American players, two conference championship teams, two NCAA national champions and a national runner-up.

Focus in on the Action

The motto of every good photographer, the constant plea of a sports editor, and the idea behind this yearbook is to zoom in on the expressions, the movements, and the spirits of the 1981 school year; thus creating just a closer look. Photographs can capture the feeling present at the time and/or express an idea. In this particular instance the latter applies.

As Eva Carter studies the putt ahead of her we are reminded that no matter what the task before us it is all in the way we perceive it that will determine our success. If Eva succeeds in making the shot she will have done so on her own and if she misses it will be a result of her own limitations.

Thus the woman athlete's success will be determined by herself alone because success is an attitude. If you believe in yourself the distance between you and your goal is like the distance of Eva's putt, only a shot away.

It's all in how you see it.

Understanding — Because She Has Been There

Nancy Gregorius joined the TSU staff spring quarter to become the Women's Golf coach. Being an outstanding athlete herself, Nancy easily adapted to a one on one relationship with her cohorts. She graduated from Troy State in the Summer of 1980 with a BS degree in Physical Education.

While at Troy, Nancy played Volleyball for four years and was the President of T club and HPER club. It is obvious that Nancy's active participation in sports will be an asset in her dealings with young women athletes. As the saying goes, "She knows where they're coming from."

Volleyball on the Upswing

Although this years season might be viewed by some as a disappointment, the Volleyball program as a whole is definitely improving. Under the leadership of Coach Ginger Sprague, the 1980-81 TSU Volleyball Team ended the season with a record of 22 wins — 15 losses. Throughout the season, the team displayed commendable spirit and sportsmanship and one can most assuredly expect an exciting show of teamwork from these ladies next year.

Sprague returned to TSU as volleyball coach and assistant women's basketball coach in 1978 and assumed duties of women's track coach last year. She came to TSU from Monmouth (Ill.) College where she coached volleyball and was an instructor in physical education.

Women's Basketball Has Its Ups and Downs

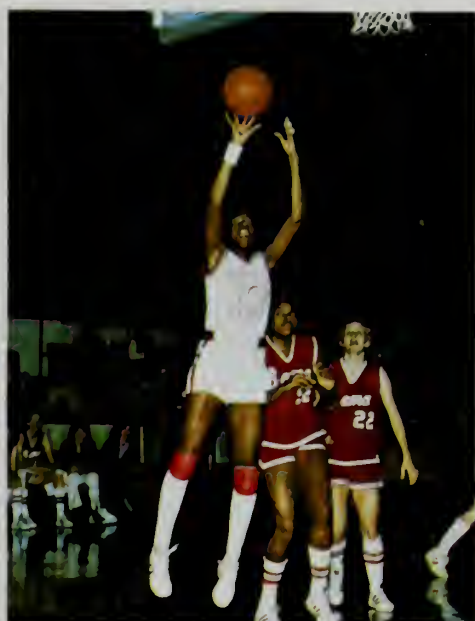

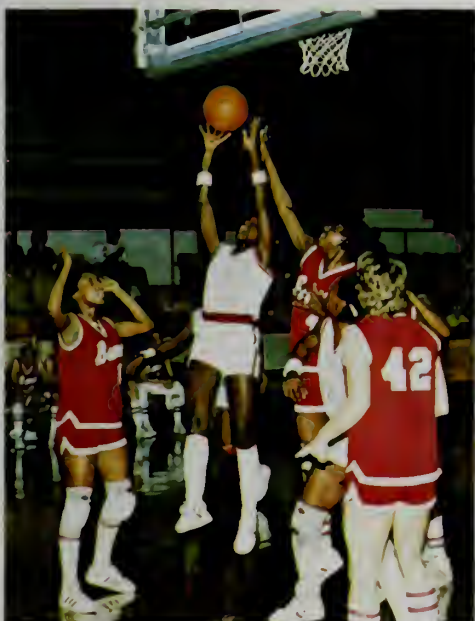

Troy State finished with a 19-15 record, including a win over Alabama-Birmingham and three over Tuskegee, but a 1-7 slate against Division I opponents and three losses to rival Livingston gave TSU the most lossess in its history. "There were times when we did not play consistently," Sorrell said, "but everyone came together at the state tournament."

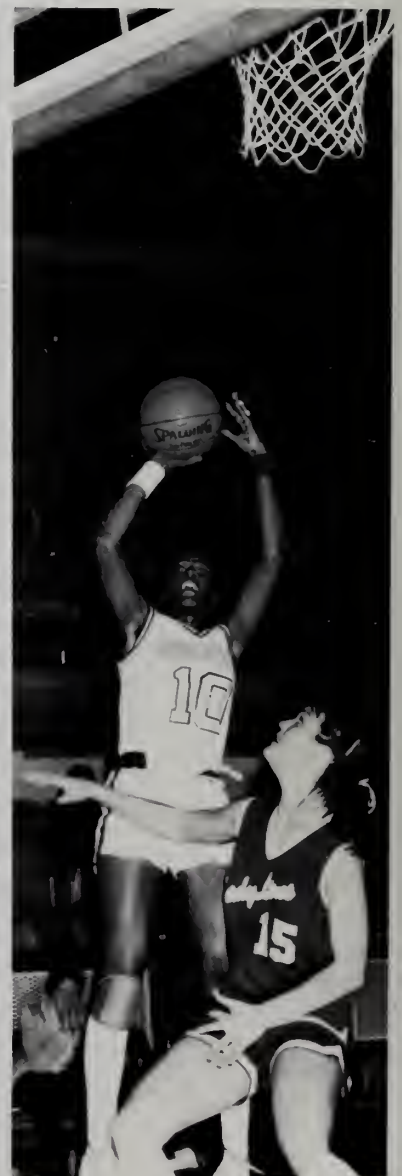

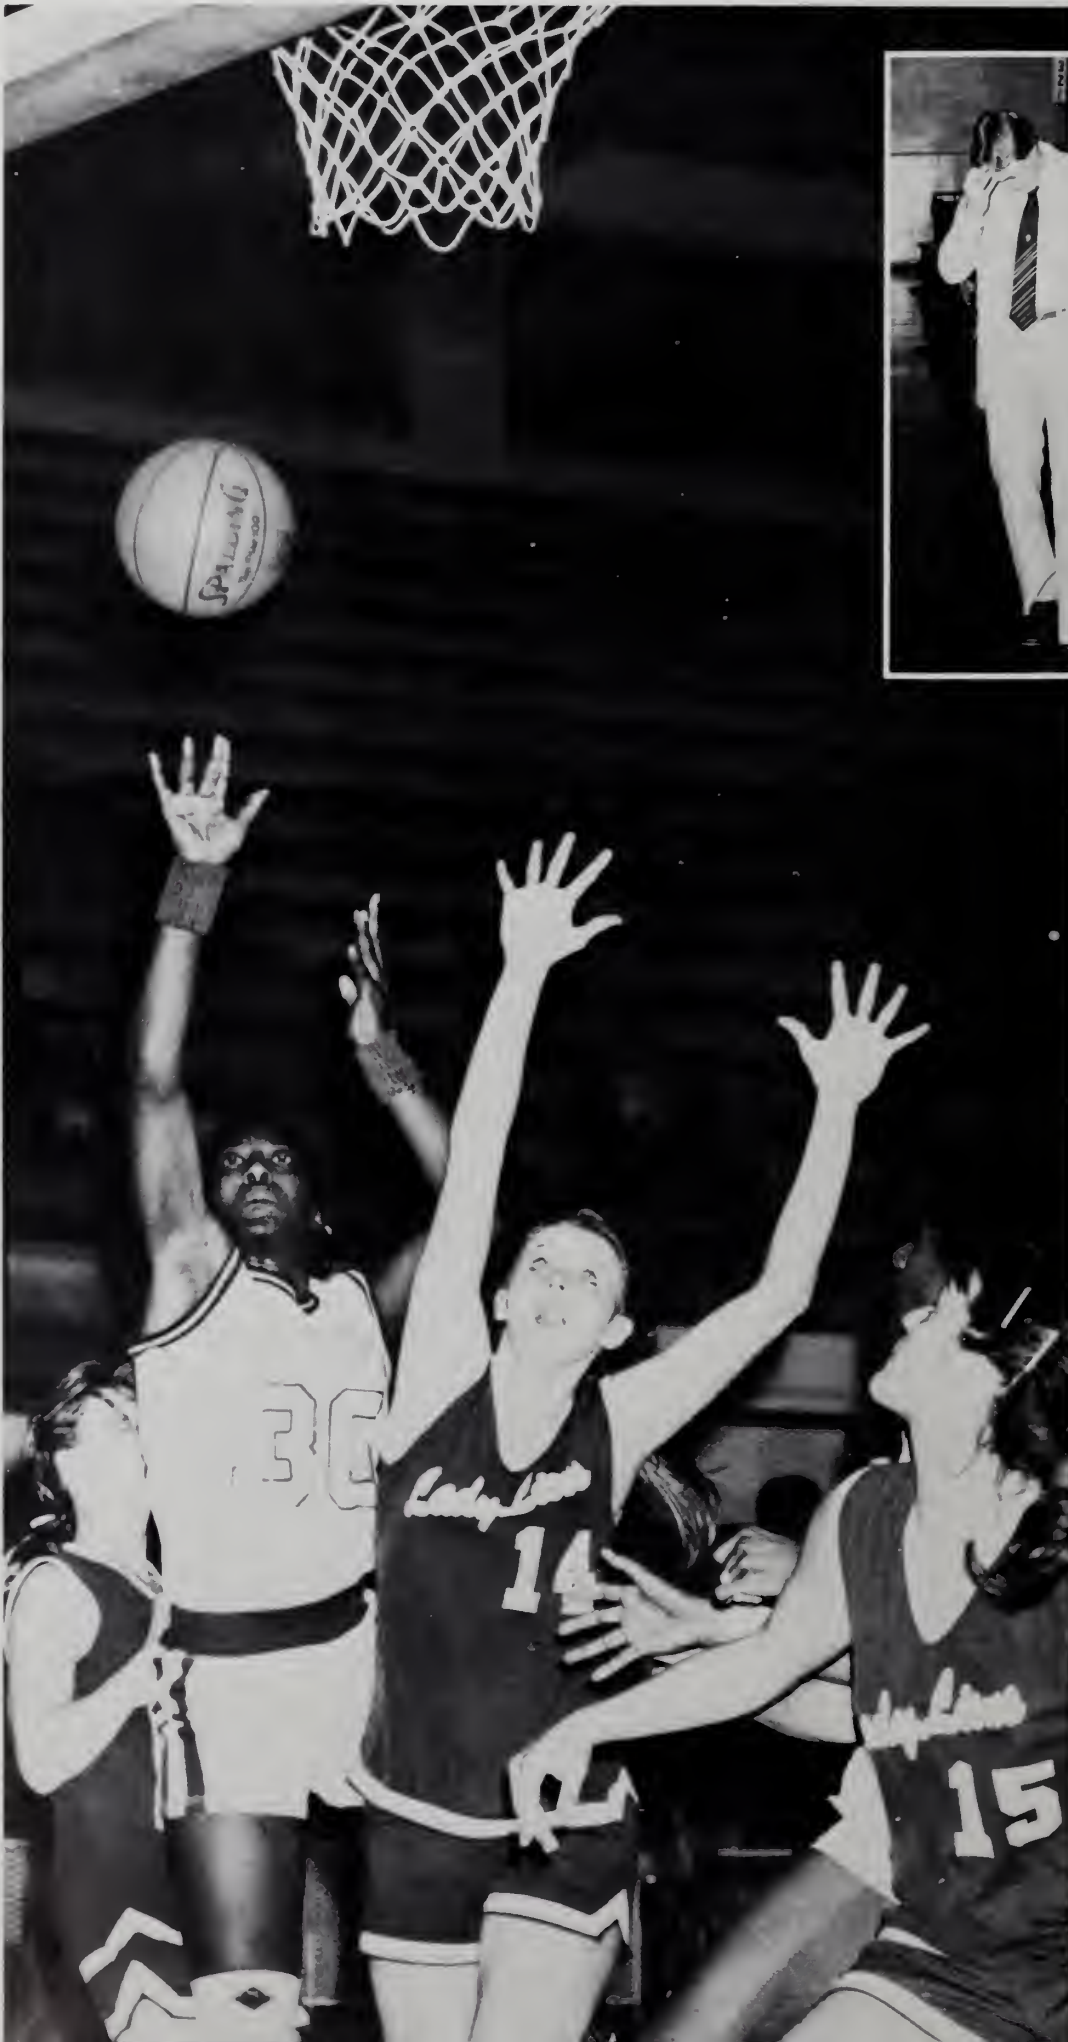

"The final game against Tuskegee was the culmination of the whole season. Our players maintained their poise and came through and won." — Sorrell.

Joyce Sorrell, one of the founders of the Alabama Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, has made TSU a leading contender for state titles.

She received a bachelor of science degree in education from the University of Tennessee at Martin in 1967. In 1968, Sorrell completed requirements for a master's degree from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

As Coordinator of Women's Athletics, Sorrell is responsible for the development of the university's intercollegiate teams for women-basketball, volleyball, golf and track and field.

Women's Sports

With the Equal Rights movement came an increased assertiveness on the part of women in every field including sports. However, that is not to say that all women athletes are "women libbers". It is easy to see that today's woman is versatile. She can be what ever she needs to be to fit the occasion. Whether she's in sexy slit skirt or sweats, today's Lady Trojan is ready to meet the challenge of being both a lady and an athlete.

Representing the four women's sports, volleyball, track, golf, and basketball, are respectively DuRhonda Ashcraft, Kris Stiehl, Ann Spooner and Vicki Carreker.

Donald Norsworthy from TSU Photography and Jimmy Messick from The Troy Messenger were a tremendous help in taking photographs for this sports section. Jimmy Messick was so kind as to provide prints of the away football games which were greatly appreciated. Donald Norsworthy printed pictures endlessly, took pictures on the spur of the moment, and put up with such short notice escapades as the womens sports closing page. These two men are to be commended for their fine work and dedication to TSU Athletics. Lloyd Hulsey and Ed Moseley also assisted in developing and taking pictures.

There is another department at TSU that was very helpful this year. A special thanks goes to our friendly and patient Sports Information Director, Tom Ensey and all those nice people over at the Field House and Pro Shop.

Without the cooperation of the people mentioned above, this sports section would have never made it to the press.

GREEKS

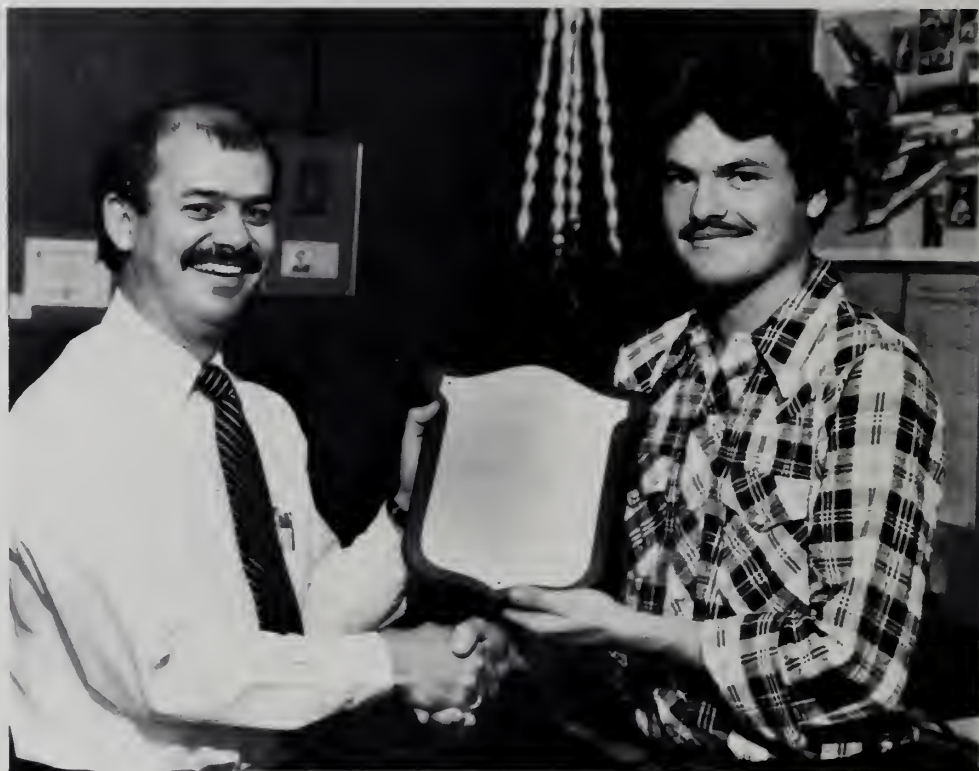

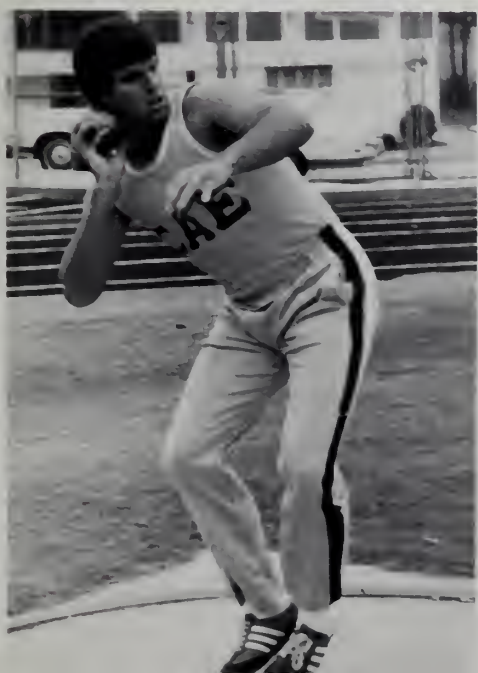

Sorority Rush

Greek Week 1981 began Monday afternoon, May 18, with an all Greek parade from the Parklane Shopping Center parking lot to Shackelford quad. That evening competition began with the annual swim meet. Tuesday was the day for displaying the "beauty" of the Greeks as the honor of Miss Venus was bestowed upon Eva Carter, sponsored by Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Also that evening the Mr. and Mrs. Greek awards were presented to Mr. Larry Popwell and Mrs. Merle Jernigan, and Ronnie Pinckard was named Greek of the Year. The Greek Games followed the next day. Track and field games, including relays, tug-of-war, egg toss, skin-the-snake, long jump, and three-legged races tested the Greeks' athletic abilities. The highlight of the week was the Greek Dance, held Thursday night at the Pike County Fair grounds, featuring a live band, "Bone, Holmes, and Friends." Overall sorority winner for the week was Alpha Delta Pi and Kappa Alpha Psi placed first among fraternities. The week was run efficiently by the IFC and Panhellenic councils which were headed by Eric Glover and Kim Gignilliat.

1980-81 proved to be a successful year for Troy State Chi Omega's as they achieved many goals set by the chapter. Campus activities other than Chi O were a must for each sister as she strove to become a well-rounded individual. Some activities and organizations in which members were involved and held leadership positions were SGA Senate, BSU, Young Democrats, Gamma Beta Phi, Rho Lambda, ODK, Mortar Board, Who's Who, Phi Gamma Nu, the TROP, Alpha Lambda Delta, Sigma Delta Chi, Beta Beta Beta, and many others. Iota Kappa placed first in intramural volleyball and softball thus capturing the All Sports Trophy for the school year. The fraternity also placed first in the Sigma Pi Powder-puff tournament, retiring the trophy for three straight victories.

Chi Omega began the year with officers Shelle Campbell — President, Patricia Fletcher — Vice-Pres., Gina Prince — Treasurer, Donna Jeffcoat — Secretary, Michele Burdette — Rush Chairman, Shannon Shirey — Personnel, Kim Gignilliat — Panhellenic, and Carol Nelson — Pledge Trainer. In January elections were held and these officers completed the year. They were Sherly Rayford — President, Laura Barksdale — Vice Pres., Sandy Kuchle — Treasurer, Darlene Brown — Secretary, Gina Prince — Rush Chairman, Shannon Shirey — Personnel, Leigh Anne Wells — Panhellenic, and Lea Ann Mittler — Pledge Trainer.

PCO: A Sneak Preveiw of College Life — TSU Style

Remember the first time you ever ate in SAGA? slept in a dorm room? visited Standard? For many upperclassmen these memories are too old to recall; yet if you wish to drag these memories up from the recesses of your mind, chances are they occurred during Pre-College Orientation. PCO is a two day introduction to Troy State University; these sessions are held periodically throughout the summer.

Incoming freshmen and transfer students are welcomed to Troy by PCO Leaders, twelve active leaders on the TSU campus. The leaders perform skits to entertain the prospective students and help them overcome the nervousness that accompanies an introduction to a new environment. Tours are given of these new surroundings, which will one day become so familiar. PCO leaders also introduce the students to another new aspect of Troy, working out a class schedule. Students get the impression that choosing classes is a simple procedure since PCO leaders make the first time look like such a "breeze". Their rude awakening will come winter quarter when they face the task of arranging their classes alone — a process about as simple as programming a computer.

The new student leaves PCO with a swelled head, thinking he is now a "big college student", only to return in the fall to face the cold reality of being simply "the new kid in town."

The Beginning of the Year — Always an Adjustment

We all know the feeling. It's the one brought on by the excitement and apprehension that accompanies the beginning of a school year and it settles right in the pit of your stomach. For an upperclassman the feeling is not quite as intense as it is for the freshman, who for the first few weeks, is constantly worried about making a good impression on his new world. Whether old or new, it takes time to get into the swing of things. Upperclassmen have to see old friends and get back into activities while freshmen have to venture out to meet "soon to be" friends and find their niche.

First on the list of priorities is getting moved in. Students arrive at TSU with cars filled to the brim with necessities and things needed to make a dorm room look a little like home. The first time is always the worst. Mom and Dad usually come and help with the moving process; however, there comes that moment when the parents must leave and a student has to face the new world alone.

In addition to getting used to a new room, you also have to get used to a roommate. Whether the roommate is an old childhood buddy or a total stranger, adjusting to living with him will have its ups and downs. For many the new roomie is a blessing and becomes the new best friend; for others he is merely someone who shares the room and to get rid of at the end of the quarter.

Following the moving comes the fun part. It's called registration. With its lines and headaches, this necessary evil drains you of money and energy, making you wonder if a nice 9 to 5 job wouldn't be a lot simpler. Why registration is so hard no one knows. Maybe it's designed to weed out the weak ones who break under pressure.

After registration books have to be bought and then classes begin. With the start of classes comes the chance to get involved. Rush for frats, sororities and numerous clubs allows the student to find activities to help him keep busy and adjust to his world a little better. Fortunately, getting adjusted happens so fast that it's all over and he's settled in before he realizes what he's been through.

Coming to College Means Cutting the Old Apron Strings

Being at college means "being on your own." Well . . . almost on your own, and it is the first time most people are away from Mom and Dad for any significant amount of time. College life means finally acquiring the independence and freedom you have been yelling about since sometime right after you realized there was an opposite sex. This freedom gives you "room to be yourself" since there is no one to tell you when to come in, when to clean your room (unless you get stuck with a roommate who emphasizes neatness), or when to go to class.

For a while all this freedom is great, and it seems perfect until you realize that along with this new found independence comes a big dose of responsibility. It's up to you to get up each morning since Mom's not here to drag you out of bed. You can't even depend on your roommate because he's in the same boat you're in. Whether or not you go to class each day is also your decision. You're the one who will enjoy the benefits of sleeping late, but you're also the one who will be getting behind in class. It's also up to you to learn to balance the checkbook because Mom and Dad usually get really ticked when the bank calls about an overdrawn account.

To a certain extent coming away to school does mean being on your own. Your parents aren't here to tell you everything to do; yet, when you get lonely, broke, or upset, you always know they're only a phone call away. The college years are a good time to try your wings and practice for the day when you really will be on your own and the apron strings are finally cut for good. The question is, "Are the apron strings ever really cut?"

Friends: Surviving Campus Life Together

Twenty years after you graduate, what do you think you will remember most about college? The classes? The professors? The clubs? More than likely it will be THE FRIENDS you met there and all the fun moments you spent together. Moments that may seemed insignificant at the time, yet, in later years came to be the most valued part of college life.

While most college friendships begin and develop after students get to school, there are some exceptions to this rule. Randall Bradley, Brenda Livingston, Mike Williams, and Ricky Castleberry are such an exception . . . almost. Here's how the story goes.

When Brenda graduated from high school she decided to come to Troy State. About the same time, a new music director was called to serve at her church. This new music director turned out to be Randall Bradley, who was already a TSU student. Randall was planning on rooming with Ricky for the coming fall quarter and the three became good friends during the summer.

When they arrived at TSU in the Fall they added a new friend to their "gang". This friendship was the result of the exchange of a third roommate. Someone had given Ricky and Randall the name of someone hunting a new room. This "someone" turned out to be Mike Williams. On swap day Ricky, Randall, and Mike became roommates; the guys along with Brenda have been good friends ever since.

Nora Colee and Sharon Pace are sisters. Phi Mu sisters that is. They are also very good friends and roomed together for Nora's last two years of college (which were Sharon's first two years). While Phi Mu helped their friendship grow it was not the sorority that caused their friendship to begin. They got to be friends because of a problem with Sharon's room during her first quarter at school. Nora was an A.D. on Sharon's floor and there was an opening in her room so Sharon moved in. The two of them hit it off from the beginning. It was during spring quarter of that same year that Sharon received an open bid and pledged Phi Mu.

Throughout the past two years they were so close and were seen together so often that to those who knew them well their names went together like those of Laverne and Shirley.

Putting three girls together in a "two man" room usually makes chances for friendly life together a little difficult. This is especially true when two of the girls are members of two different sororities and the third is an independant. Freshmen Janet Felder, Laura Jeane, and Debbie Green overcame these obstacles and not only got along, but the three became very good friends. It wasn't enough that they were roommates and saw each other in the room, this threesome also spent quite a bit of their free time eating in SAGA, shopping, or going to movies. In addition to the time spent together during the week they often went home with one another for the weekends. While their room in Gardner Hall was small and sometimes very cramped, it brought three girls together and helped begin a very special friendship.

When asked how they became such good friends neither Sharon Lipham, Lydia Deloach, or Ray Bendall could remember because there was really no reason for them getting together. Lydia was majoring in Education, Ray was in Advertising, and Sharon wanted to be a nurse, so their majors weren't a contributing factor to their friendship. They were from three different hometowns and didn't know one another before coming to college. The three weren't involved in the same activities and they weren't even classmates until after they had become friends. Yet neither were concerned about how or why the friendship developed; they simply accepted it and were glad it happened.

Going away to college is an experience filled with changes and adjustments for any college freshman. This was especially true for Huw Baker and Joey James.

Coming to Troy was the first time Joey had ever been away from his twin brother. While leaving home is hard for all students, leaving a twin, who has been a constant companion and friend is especially hard.

When Huw came to Troy, not only did he leave home, he also left his homeland. A native of Norfolk, England, Huw received a Scholarship to spend a year studying at TSU.

When Joey and Huw arrived in Troy they discovered they had been placed together as roommates. The situation could not have been better; Huw helped Joey make the transition to college and Joey helped Huw get settled in a strange land.

Getting An Education: The Reason for Coming to College

College life ... the parties, the concerts, the ballgames, the friends, the fun ... and oh yeah, the classes. Many times we're so busy living it up that we forget the reason we came to college was to get an education, and the only way to get that education is to go to class. Not only are we supposed to attend the class, we're expected to listen and take notes. For many this isn't too bad because once the notes are taken they're simply shoved to back of a notebook until the night before the test. That's when the panic sets in and we stay up all night hoping to cram in enough to at least pass. Even then there's not that much to worry about because after the test, there's always time for a good long nap. Everything finally catches up with these habitual procrastinators during that dreaded week of finals when the tests come one after another and there is no time for sleep.

Of course there are those students serious about this business of getting an education. These are the ones who keep up and learn the material rather than cramming it in at the end. They're the people everyone else (the procrastinators) hate to have in class. While there are students like this who never forget the real reason for coming to school, there are also those who never really knew there was a reason for being here.

College students are constantly under pressure. With the average student taking at least three courses each quarter there is always work to be done in some class. Even when there is nothing due right away there is always that nagging feeling of guilt that you should be hitting the books in order to get ahead. However the pressure to get things done is often overcome by the desire to get away from it all. Study breaks, the term used for any time spent away from the books, are as diversified as the student body itself. Whether for an hour, an afternoon, or an entire weekend, students find many ingenious ways to get away from the pressure of school.

Students Find College Life Filled with Routines

Ho Hum. And they told us college would be so much fun! They somehow forgot to mention that along with the parties, concerts and movies there would be lapses of time where we would find ourselves in the same old routines day, after endless day.

After cranking up in the morning, it's off to class. Somewhere in between classes we try to squeeze in time for a bite to eat (which is sometimes all we can force ourselves to swallow), a quick glance for mail, and a rushed stop at the Adams Center book store. In the afternoon the student body scatters, from jobs to athletic workouts to a "snooze out" back at the dorm.

It is so easy to let life pull you along especially at college where you are always "a day late and a dollar short!"

So raise your arm. Go on, do it! Lift it over your shoulder. Now pat yourself on the back. Wake up for a second and look back at all you have accomplished. Feel Good? Before your head gets too dangerously swelled look at what still lies ahead. Never ending, is it? The moment is past and now its back to the grind . . . just keep on keepin' on.

Night Life: A Variation of Activities

Ask the parents of Troy State students how their children spend each evening and many would naively tell you their child spent every night in the library studying. Others would more knowingly admit their son or daughter thought the setting of the sun meant it was time to party. While some only studied and others only partied, there were many who found different ways to spend their evenings.

For those students involved in campus activities nights were filled with meetings, meetings, and more meetings. Watching TV, another popular pastime, was an addiction for some people. Each night there was at least one program which they simply had to watch. Dating or spending time with a girlfriend or boy friend was always an enjoyable way to kill an evening. Students who like to party could either split a six pack with friends or head to the nearest bar. One of the best ways to spend an evening was simply in the company of good friends. Whether over a good meal or a close game of backgammon, it was relaxing to spend time discussing problems, school-work, or the latest TSU gossip.

During a regular school week, with classes demanding much outside work and extracurricular activities taking most of students' free time, little time was left to relax or spend with friends. Weekends became almost a necessity. They provided a chance for students to take a break from a busy schedule and do the things they wanted rather than the things required of them.

For most of the country the weekend began on Friday; however, for many Troy students the weekend got going on Thursday night. These students saw Friday only as a day to skip class, so Thursday night was a time to cut loose and enjoy life. Night spots like Standard, Step Ahead, and the Front Porch were usually packed. Dorm halls became rowdy as students found new sources of energy since there was no intellectual activity required.

For a great many students the weekend was a time to pack the car and head for home. Boredom, jobs, girlfriends/boyfriends, and Mom's good cooking were some of the reasons there was a mass exodus from Troy around 1:00 p.m. every Friday.

For those who did stick it out in Troy for the weekend there were as many things to do as there were people to do them. Frat parties were a popular pastime for many students. Socializing, drinking, and dancing could almost always be found going on in at least one fraternity house on Friday and Saturday nights. For many "fortunate" TSU students the weekends provided a time for dating, with dinner and a movie being favorite dating activities. Sports enthusiasts used the free time to play tennis, swim, or simply enjoy the outdoors. Weekends during spring quarter were filled with trips to the beach. Fraternities, sororities, or carloads of friends left on Friday afternoons with intentions of partying and catching some rays; they returned late Sunday afternoon broke and blistered.

Though the weekend was usually a time for unwinding after a week of hitting the books, some intellectual activity still occurred between Friday and Monday. Many used the weekend as a time to get that term paper written or to study for a big test. Others used the time to get things organized so the following week would run more smoothly than the hectic preceding one. There were also students that had to spend the weekend cleaning their room in order to make it livable for the following week.

Whether spent at home or in Troy, weekends usually meant a break from the rat race of school. While they were a time of recuperation for many, they caused a need for recuperation in others. However they were spent weekends were always too short and as Monday morning rolled around students once again started the long wait for Friday afternoon.

Part-time Jobs Produce Profit and Pressure

Most people on the outside seem to forget that every Troy State student has a job. This job is called "getting an education." For those serious about the matter it becomes a very challenging occupation, as studying for tests, writing papers, and preparing reports become part of their every day life.

In addition to going to school, there are many students who hold down part-time jobs. These people belong to an unusual class. Life to them becomes a juggling act, for they must make time for friends, activities, and schoolwork in addition to hours on the job.

From desk assistants in dorms to cooks in fast food restaurants to cashiers in grocery stores, TSU students become part-time employees. Sometimes these jobs are related to a student's major and give him valuable career experience; however, most students go to work to provide spending money or to help pay the bills. Whatever reason a student gets a job, it always adds pressure to an already hectic life.

TSU Provides Opportunity for Involvement

"I'm so busy. There's just too much to do." Heard this line before? If you attend Troy State University not only have you heard it often enough but you've probably been guilty of saying it quite a bit yourself. This is the constant complaint of a college student and its true because the years spent in college are usually active ones. It's understandable that the majority of students need this involvement to enjoy school for without extracurricular activities the monotony of classes would become unbearable.

Providing a break from boredom is not the only reason students get involved. Becoming a member of an organization is one of the best ways to meet people and make new friends. This is especially true for freshmen who are away from home for the first time. Clubs and other activities also provide an outlet for students' creative abilities. Whether its the Drama department, University Dancers, the TROP, or whatever, TSU offers students many opportunities to develop their talent and creativity. Of course, there are always those ambitious souls who miss the mark altogether and get involved because it looks good on the resume.

While most college students complain about being too busy, if given additional hours in a day, most would fill this free time by joining another club. It seems that being involved is a need of college students and if you can't beat it, join it.

Troy State Students Pick Favorite Candidates

Many times during a regular school year Troy State students are confronted with an election. There is always a candidate claiming he's the best, the hardest working, and the one who will do the best job. The 1980-81 school year was no exception; however, with national and state elections held in November, the entire county joined TSU students in the process of choosing leaders.

Fall quarter was the busiest for students when it came to elections. SGA Senate elections were held as students chose fellow classmates to represent them on the Senate floor. These elections were also required during both winter and spring quarters to fill vacancies left by graduating or resigning Senators. As Homecoming drew close the campus was plastered with signs bearing the names of seven Troy State coeds, asking students to vote for Homecoming Queen. Pam Rigas was chosen to represent the University and Tammy Tase, Rudee Kritakara, and Joy Farmer were elected as her court.

Many TSU students got their first taste of national politics as national and state elections were held in early November. Ronald Reagan was elected over incumbent Jimmy Carter and war hero Jeremiah Denton won over Jim Folsom, Jr. in the Senate election. These two races drew the interest of most Troy students. Evidence of this interest could be seen as bumper stickers, buttons, and signs were seen all over campus, showing students' preferences.

The resignation of SGA President Lamar Higgins at the end of fall quarter lead to a general fruit basket turnover in the SGA. With Higgins' resignation Vice-President Richard Dean advanced to the Presidency and appointed Secretary Stacy Krebs as the new VP. This left the Secretary slot open which required students to once again go to the polls. When the ballots were counted Senator Natalie Baldwin had risen to fill the executive opening.

Heavy campaigning occurred during the Spring SGA elections. The four executive offices were the prizes and the fight to get them was a tough one. All candidates held intensive campaigns and not a door, window, or wall on campus was safe from a campaign poster. The annual Candidate Forum during which candidates are asked questions by students, interested in SGA (or mudslinging), turned into a very heated session. Candidates were questioned about their qualifications, their past record in SGA, and their integrity. On April 22, the student body elected Senate Floor Leader David Campbell as President and Stacy Krebs was elected for a second term as VP. Senator Anne Kimmel was chosen Secretary and Senator Chas Powers won the Clerk election the following week in a run off.

While some students on campus were apathetic and could not have cared less about who was running for an office, most students were active participants in the year's elections. Whether Ronald Reagan or David Campbell, the majority of TSU students had their favorite candidate and gave their time, their energy, and (most importantly) their vote to get him elected.

From "Prep" to "Cowboy" TSU Wore It All

To say that Troy State students cared a little about what they wore during the '80-'81 school year is an example of understatement. It was obvious that some students firmly believed the old cliché that "clothes make the person" as they spent countless hours and dollars shopping for the clothes that gave them just the right look. The clothes seen on campus were as diversified as the student body; however, a walk across the quad made it evident that "prep" and "cowboy" were the two main looks that dominated Troy State fashion.

Call it collegiate. Call it classic. Call it what you will, but the prep look was in. From hairstyles to shoes, anything that resembled prep was popular among the majority of students. Kakhi, cotton, and corduroy were the biggies in slacks. Oxford cloth button downs, in every pattern and color imaginable were worn year round. Penny loafers, tassel loafers, top-siders, and Nikes were the shoes seen on preppie feet. Izod was the name brand associated with the prep look; however, almost all students owned at least one piece of clothing bearing the gator. He could be seen on slacks, shirts, shorts, sweaters, and dresses just to name a few.

About the only people who did not own at least one piece of preppie clothing were those into the cowboy look. Plaid shirts, Levis, boots, and hats were the clothes required to obtain the "Urban Cowboy" look.

While many students had style at the top of their lists, others spent about as much time deciding what to wear as they did choosing what flavor ice cream to have with lunch. To these people owning an Izod or a pair of cowboy boots was not one of their top priorities. For them style was what they liked, and you know when it comes right down to it, style, like beauty, is in the eye of the beholder.

TROY STATE SOUND OF THE

SOUTH MARCHING BAND

BAND BELIEVES PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

The Troy State University "Sound of the South" Marching Band is rated among the finest in the nation. Performing regularly for many bowl games, the band has the distinct privilege of having been seen on all three major networks. The 1980 edition of the "Sound of the South" performed for the Blue-Gray Classic in Montgomery as well as the Atlanta Falcons game. The band enjoys being the ambassador of Troy State University, but even more so in doing the half-time shows for the Trojans here at home.

Countless hours go into practicing for the marching season. Many times on campus, the band can be heard in the background working on the next show. Neither rain, nor sleet, nor dark of stadium can stop the band from its appointed practice. Through the many parades and numerous festivals, and untold half-times, the band is there and enjoying every minute of it. There is no greater honor than to have participated in the "Sound of the South" Marching Band.

ALUMNI BAND MAKES BIG DEBUT

This year's homecoming activities were decorated by yet another event: the first TSU Alumni Band. Great planning was involved in preparation for the band's debut during half-time performance at Homecoming. Members met and rehearsed Saturday morning following the big parade to learn the music and drill for the afternoon performance. Jim Rolling, the original announcer for TSU bands, returned to announce the half-time show. Serving as Drum Major was Bruce Smiley. Nearly 100 alumni participated in reuniting the old "Sound".

The TSU Alumni Band was sponsored by Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary service sorority and fraternity for band members.

KAPPA KAPPA PSI

Kappa Kappa Psi is a National Honorary Band Fraternity operating exclusively in the field of college and university band. To become a member, one must have completed one quarter of band and have an overall GPA of 1.0 with a 2.7 in band. Membership is open to all majors.

During Fall quarter, Kappa Kappa Psi members brought refreshments during band rehearsals. They were also responsible for setting up the band room and loading and unloading the buses during band trips.

Three pledges were accepted Winter quarter. These pledges, in conjunction with the pledges of Tau Beta Sigma, sponsored a Dance Marathon. A total of $130 was raised from Kappa Kappa Psi pledges alone.

The main project for Spring quarter was helping with the State Band Contest. This was the first time that the State Band Contest was held at Troy. Working at the contest consisted of six days of setting up the stage and guiding the buses for the seventy bands which competed.

May 18-24 was Founder's Week for Kappa Kappa Psi, and such activities as dress up day and jersey day were sponsored. The annual banquet was held May 20 to celebrate their founding in 1974.

Other activities included a football game against Phi Mu Alpha during Winter quarter and a softball game during Spring quarter.

The Paul Yoder Scholarship, presented to an outstanding brother during the Spring Band Contest, was given to Gary Bradley this year. Each year Kappa Kappa Psi presents the F. Lee Bowling Award to an outstanding Junior High School bandsman.

Yet another honor this year included the inclusion of Troy's chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi as one of the top ten chapters in the nation out of 180 chapters in all. Troy was the only small school represented in top ten ranking.

Kappa Kappa Psi defeated Phi Mu Alpha on Saturday, May 16, in their Annual Spring rival game played on Sartain field.

TAU BETA SIGMA CHOSEN AS TOP TEN CHAPTER

Tau Beta Sigma is an honorary service sorority for college band students at TSU which promotes spirit within the band through service projects and activities. Out of approximately 150 chapters of Tau Beta Sigma nationwide, Troy's chapter was chosen as one of the top ten chapters. This is based on its record of being active and entitles them to compete for the Chapter Leadership Trophy at the national convention held August 2-8 in Cincinnati, Ohio.

On the district level, three local members hold district office. They are responsible for printing the district publication, the Eighth Note. Troy has also been chosen as Big Sister Chapter to Valdosta State.

On the local level, Tau Beta Sigma is also very active. During Homecoming, they entered a display for the band. Sisters were in charge of a refreshment stand during the State Band Contest held April 6-11. They directed registration, ran scores for the judges, and kept the Hall of Fame open. They carried out these responsibilities also at the Southeast United States Band Directors Clinic. Pledge members sponsored a Dance Marathon February 20 in conjunction with pledges from Kappa Kappa Psi.

Several awards were presented this year by Tau Beta Sigma. Kathy Harbuck received the Rosie Yoder scholarship fund given each year at the Spring Concert. The Alumni Loyalty Award for dedication to the sorority after graduation went to Lori Hart. The sorority also presented the F. Lee Bowling Award for an outstanding Jr. High School student who excels in band.

Tau Beta Sigma initiated twelve pledges as sisters this year and selected three honorary members. The sponsor of Tau Beta Sigma is Patricia S. Fry.

Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi pledges "punk out" at the Dance Marathon held February 20 in Long Hall. Approximately $200 was raised from this project.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association (SGA) is the lobbying force of the students of Troy State University. The SGA uses the democratic Republic governmental process to express the views of the student and at the same time provides an educational experience for those who become actively involved. The SGA encompasses an Executive Branch composed of a President, Vice President, Clerk, and Secretary; a Legislative Branch composed of fifty-three Senators; and a Judicial Branch which consists of the Traffic and Appeals Committee, and the Supreme Court. The SGA is the largest organization on campus.

Lamar Higgins of Marbury was re-elected without opposition as president of SGA for the 1980-81 term. Lamar, however, resigned as president of SGA upon his appointment to serve under Governor Fob James. Richard Dean succeeded Lamar Higgins as SGA president at the end of fall quarter following President Higgin's resignation. Stacy Krebs, elected secretary to the SGA, was promoted to the position of vice president. Natalie Baldwin filled the vacant position of secretary. Danny Mims was re-elected clerk without opposition.

Shortly following Richard Dean's assumption of the office of SGA president, he reinstated the student discount program. Fifteen local mer-

TSU DEBATE — FORENSICS SQUAD

The summit of classical education was to become an orator, and this ideal, though changed in forum, continued into Medieval and Renaissance education. Subject matter was studied not simply to know and retain information, but primarily to be able to use this knowledge in the development of ideas and in the articulate defense of the ideas in the face of contrasting opinion: education was largely a series of disputations, the forerunners of modern debate.

Current forensic activity is characterized by intense tournament activity, technological use, mobility, specialization, professional organization, a renaissance in the individual events of interpretive reading and platform oratory, and a movement toward cross-examination debate as the predominant tournament format.

The TSU Debate-Forensics Squad is a representative, regional program that wins its fair share of awards. During the past academic year, the squad won over two dozen finalist trophies in debate and individual events in seven tournaments held at host colleges throughout the South in competition with squads from the most prestigious colleges and universities.

The TSU Debate Team traveled to events hosted by Middle Tennessee State University, Mercer University, Montevallo University, Auburn University for Women, Berry College, and The Citadel.

When Troy's Debate-Forensics Squad attended Berry College, they returned with a second and fourth place in Team Debate Speaking, a second in Prose Interpretation, a fifth in Dramatic Duet. They received a second place Sweepstakes award out of twenty-one Southeastern Conference schools competing. This is a fair representation of the success of the squad's academic year. Some of the "conquered" trophies can be seen in the trophy case on the first floor of Wright Hall.

Delta Sigma Pi is a professional fraternity organized to foster the study of business in universities; to encourage scholarship, social activity and the association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice; and extend these qualities into the Troy community.

The motto of Delta Sigma computer companies such as IBM were invited to set up exhibits. Students were allowed to ask questions and take literature. Speakers were at different times throughout the day.

Winter quarter Delta Sigma Pi participated in Jump Rope for Heart sponsored by the HYPER Club. Delta Sig members jumped rope for two hours in an effort to raise over $250 for the Heart Fund. Brothers also participated in the Angel Flight Bed Race and the BSU Volleyball Marathon.

Delta Sigma Pi sponsors businessmen from outside the community as well as faculty to speak at meetings.

To be eligible for membership, a student must have a 1.3 QPA, a business major with 12 hours completed and a pledge for a quarter.

TSU EUROPEAN REGION

From a beginning of graduate programs at six bases on August 26, 1974, and an undergraduate program on one base on March 1, 1976, the European Region has grown so that Troy State is now located at 30 bases, with graduate programs at 27 bases and undergraduate programs at 20 bases.

Several host-country citizens are enrolled in our overseas programs, and the European Region has a consortium with the University of Saarland in Germany.

Several undergraduate students have come to the Troy campus to complete their degrees, including students under the Bootstrap program as well as one foreign civilian. One undergraduate completing our program has been accepted into law school at one of the Ivey League universities.

The European Region has the greatest graduate enrollment of any of the Troy State locations. Plans are being implemented to increase the library holdings at the European bases.

Ingalls Award

Receiving the 1981 Ingalls Award for Excellence in Classroom Teaching was Mr. James F. O'Neal. Mr. O'Neal, who believes it is a teacher's responsibility to help a student get his or her education through hard work, is the personification of the spirit of the Ingalls Award.

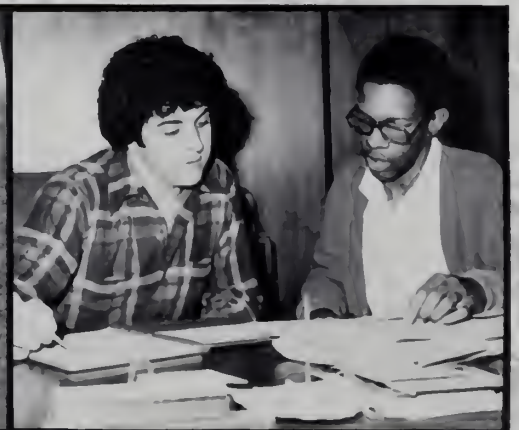

Mr. O'Neal carries a full teaching load as well as chairing the Department of Mathematics, a position he has held since 1976. In his spare time he acts as a sponsor-advisor to the Baptist-Student Union, a junior advisor to the Mortar Board, and a member of the Adams Center Union Board, the Student Affairs Committee, and the All-University Education Council.

Mr. O'Neal, the holder of a B.A. in Mathematics from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., a Master of Religious Education from Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Tx., and a Master of Arts in Mathematics from Columbia University in New York, feels that the award, which is accompanied by a check for $1,000 and a plaque, is a vote of confidence on behalf of his efforts.

PLAY KICK FOR CASH

Win $1,000 In Cash Plus A Set of Steel-Belted Radial Tires

At the end of the first quarter, one number will be called. If that number matches the number printed on this page, report to the South Gate immediately. At the end of the second quarter, before the band takes the field for the half-time show, you will be directed to the ten yard line and allowed one try to make a 20 yard field goal. Split the uprights and go home with $1000 cash and a new set of steel-belted radial tires!

We Have A Winner: Jim Rodgers '79 T.S.U. Graduate

Just A Closer Look . . .

Well, it's over, the 1981 Paladium is finished and back in your hands, I only wish each of you knew all the hard work and fun times that went into the production of this book. I've often wondered why singers thank everyone including their pets when they win awards but now I understand. There are so many people who helped us out this year and believe me, we thank you graciously for your help. The people I want to name specifically is my staff and I write this copy for them.

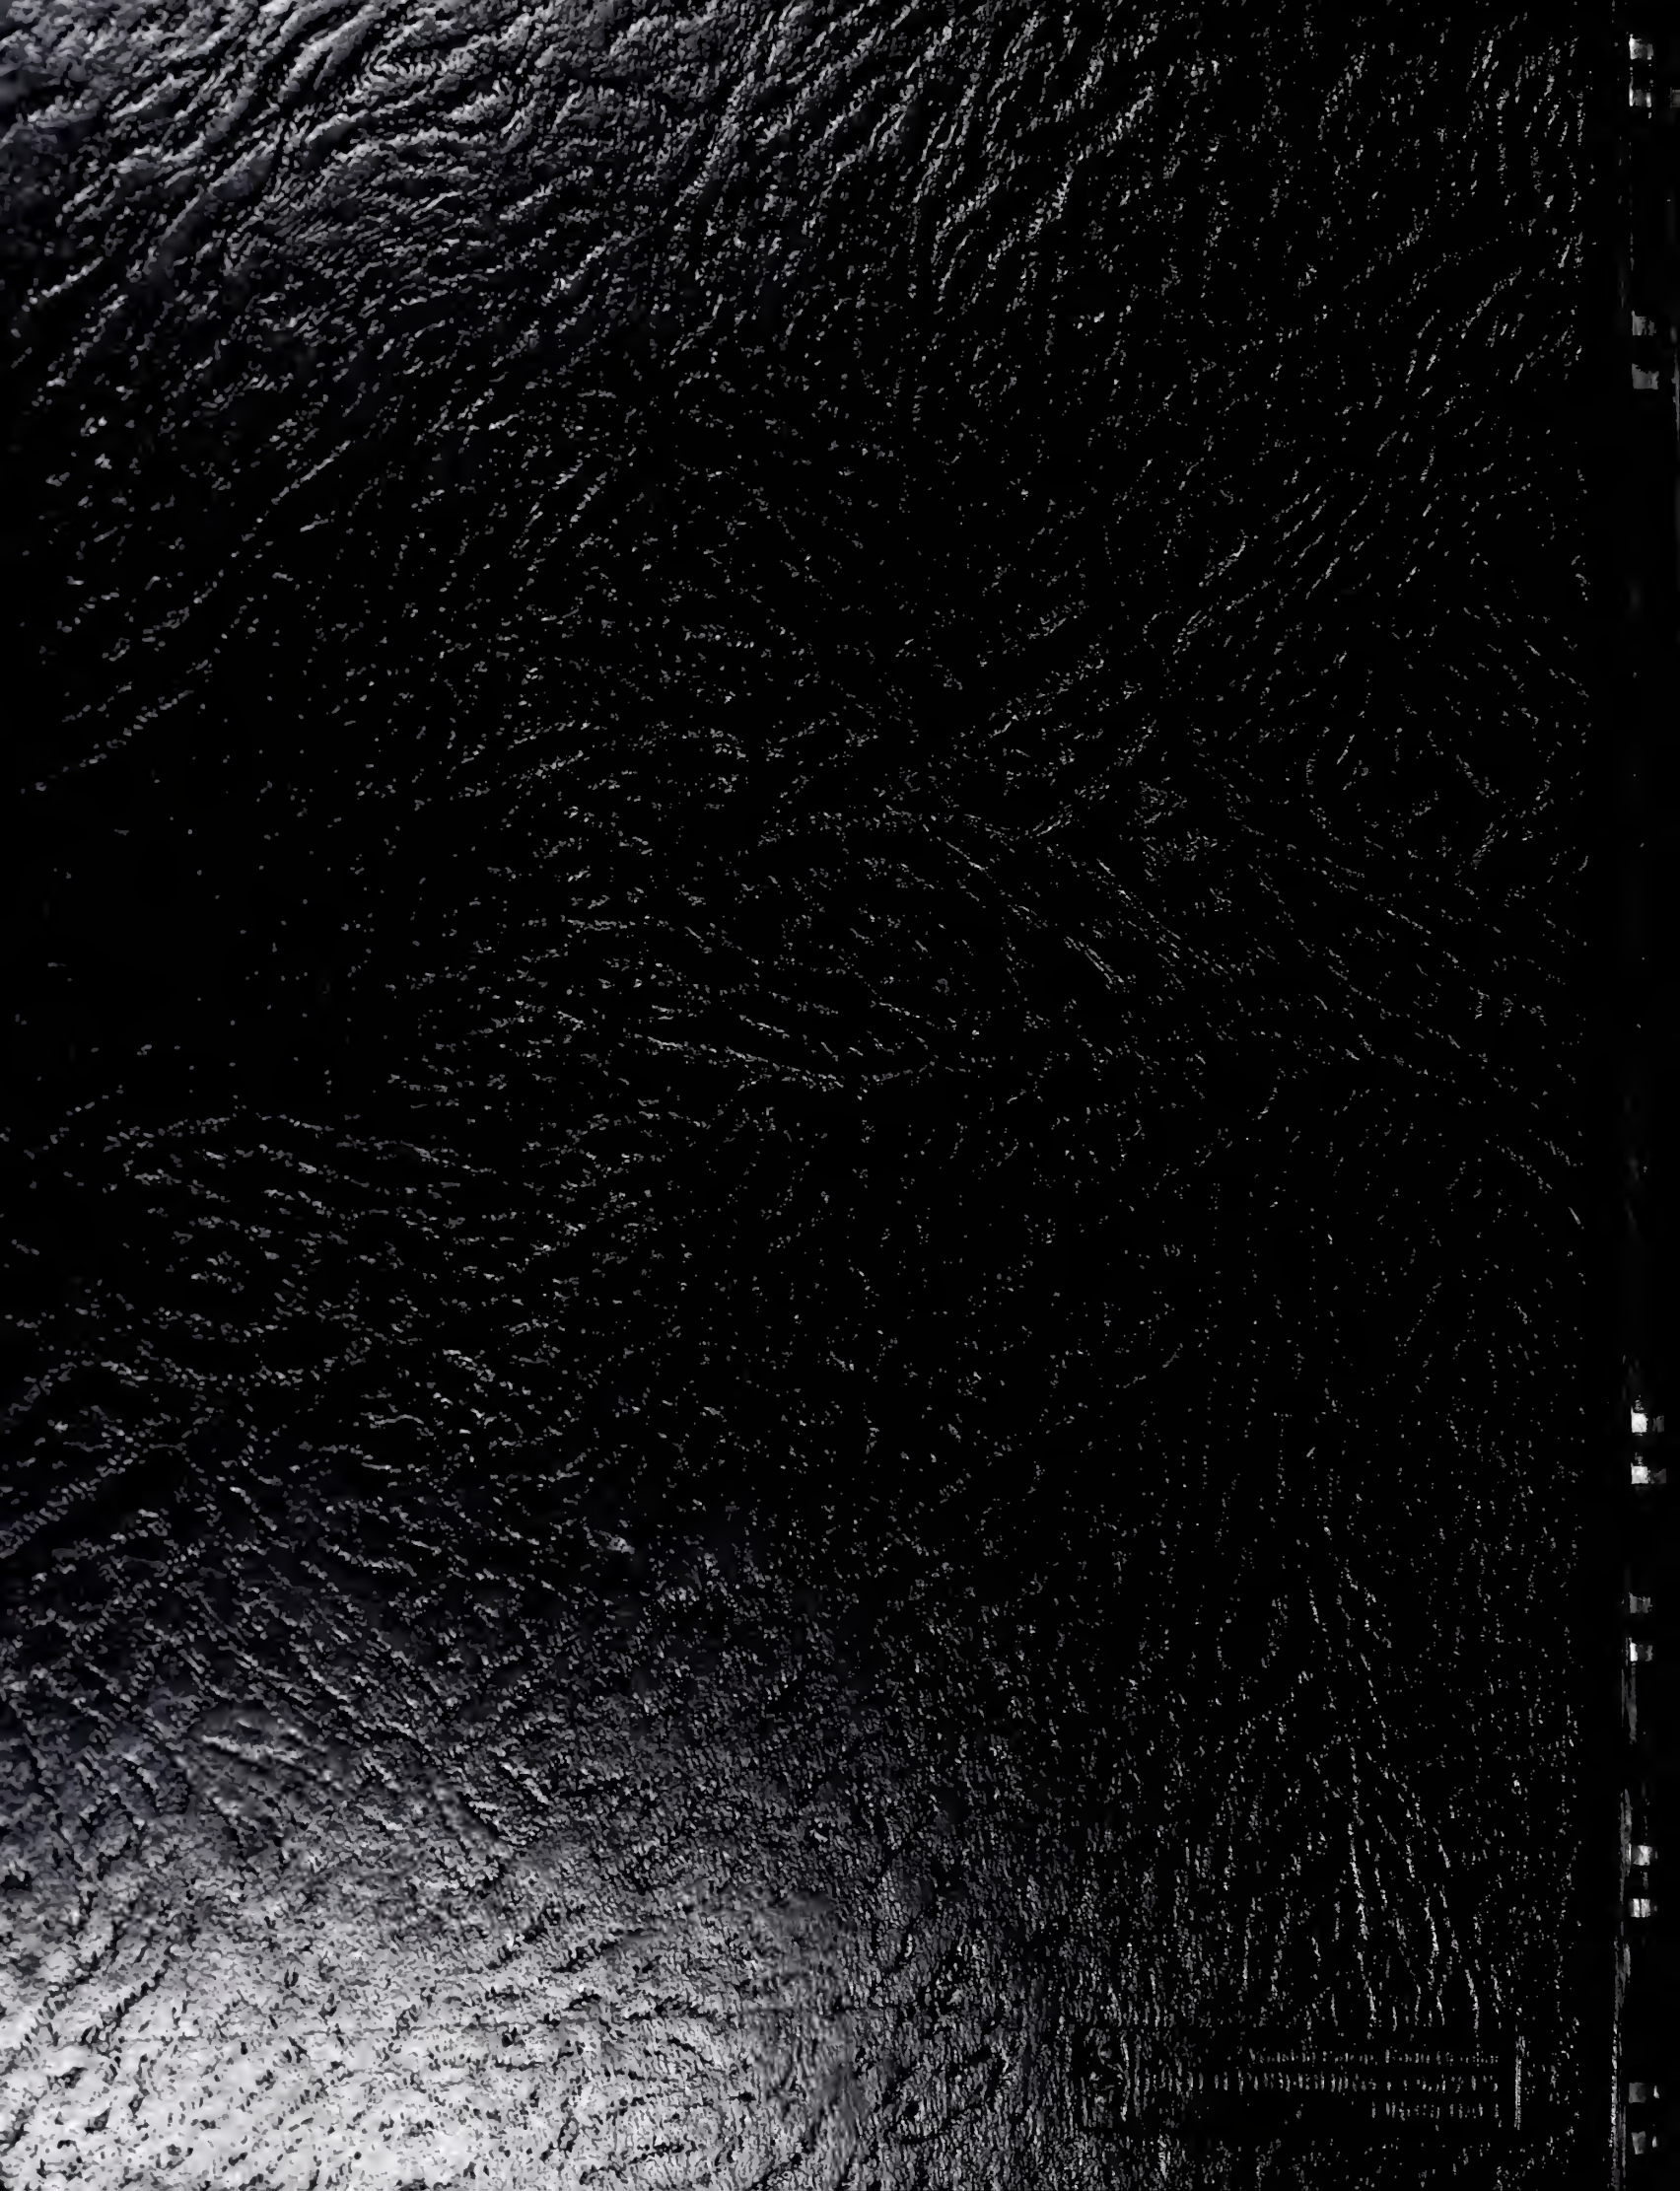

Susan, your cheerful smile and ready hand with the artwork is great!! Richard, even if you have trouble writing captions you're a very creative guy and I'm glad you were here with me. Ray, despite the problems we had with pictures, you've shown yourself to be a true leader and a great worker. Tammy, you're cute. Seeing your work in actual print is a rewarding experience isn't it? Missy, you did a great job with the faculty for we all know how difficult it is to catch them in their office. Tony, your one-man-show during office hours kept us laughing and we all enjoyed the disco lessons. Leslie, you're such a woman. Where the slack needed to be pulled, you were always there to pull it for us. Ms. Smith, words cannot express to you how much I personally appreciate all the help and guidance you have given me this year and the past years I have worked on the staff. Donald and Ed, you've been such a help with last minute pictures, thanks for understanding. Mark Kullberg, thanks for the special attention you've shown us, it has meant alot to my staff and me.

My dream of being a university yearbook editor has been fulfilled. I hope you'll enjoy the book as much as we have putting it together for you. Again to my staff, thank you for being there when I needed you most ... you'll never know how much you all mean to me. But most of all, thanks Mamma and Daddy for putting up with me for the past 8 years of yearbook talk, it's meant alot to me to know you were always there.
